City Parks, Facilities Go Smoke-Free March 1

An expansion of the city's smoke-free area rules to include all city facilities and city parks takes effect on Tuesday, March 1.

The Mayor and Council voted in October to expand the city's smoke-free rules to include areas such as the plaza in Rockville Town Square (a city-owned park). Privately-owned outdoor restaurant dining areas adjacent to Town Square and throughout Rockville will not be affected. "No Smoking" signs have been posted in the affected areas.

Enforcement of the smoke-free area rules will be complaint-driven. Complaints may be directed to Montgomery County's Department of Health and Human Services, the agency tasked with monitoring the county's smoke-free area rules.

The Mayor and Council's action followed a unanimous recommendation by the Recreation and Parks Advisory Board that all city parks and facilities be smoke-free.

For more, including a list of city parks and facilities that will be smoke-free, find the Oct. 19 Mayor and Council agenda at www.rockvillemd.gov/AgendaCenter. +

Mayor and Council Refine Priorities for Current Term

Planning, Economic Development and School Construction Are Part of Joint Vision

Completing the city's master plan and the Rockville Pike plan, establishing economic development incentives and advocating for school construction funding are among the priorities for the city outlined by the Mayor and Council during a Feb. 9 work session at Glenview Mansion.

During the session, the Mayor and Council refined more than 20 priorities that they first identified during a retreat in January. Among the priorities are:

- Meaningfully engaging with the county school system and the county and state government to promote school construction. Learn more about the city's efforts to advocate for school construction funding on page 3.
- Formulating a policy on economic development incentives. The Mayor and Council discussed proposed economic development incentives with Rockville Economic Development, Inc. on Feb. 22. Find the staff report and view video of the discussion at www.rockvillemd.gov/AgendaCenter.
- Receiving the Rockville Pike plan from the Planning Commission and adopting it this year. Learn more at www.rockvillemd.gov/rockvillespike.
- Completing the "Rockville 2040" master plan revision by 2018. Learn more, including how to be involved, in the article on page 4.
- Adopting and putting in place a "Vision Zero" program continued on pg. 8...

Spring Forward and Check Smoke Alarms on March 13

Homeowners are reminded to use the beginning of daylight saving time on Sunday, March 13 as an opportunity to check their home's smoke alarms while they are setting clocks forward. A working smoke alarm is the best way of notifying residents of a fire.

Battery-operated smoke alarms are required to be replaced every 10 years from the date of manufacture in order to comply with a 2013 state law. The devices should also be tested at least once a month.

The state law calls for older smoke alarms to be replaced with new, sealed, long-life battery-powered smoke alarms by no later than Jan. 1, 2018, or when there is a change of tenant, test failure or a building permit is issued.

Hardwired 120-volt electric smoke alarms should be replaced every 10 years with new 120-volt smoke alarms with battery backup to ensure proper and timely operation in a fire. Homeowners with hardwired smoke alarms should not replace their devices with battery-powered alarms.

The fire code-compliant smoke alarms can be purchased at most home improvement stores.

For more information on smoke alarms, where and when they are required, and general fire safety tips for homes, visit www.rockvillemd.gov/firesafety or email Timothy Diehl, city fire marshal, at tdiehl@rockvillemd.gov.

'TERRIFIC' Kids Earn Donated Bikes

Donations Accepted March 6; Applications Due April 8

Rockville students in grades 1-5 can earn a free refurbished bike by doing good deeds.

The TERRIFIC Bikes program, organized by the city and the Rockville Bike Hub, is open to students in Rockville public or private schools, or those who are home-schooled.

TERRIFIC stands for Trustworthy, Earnest, Respectful, Responsible, Involved, Fair, Industrious and Caring. Students receiving bikes will display these attributes by completing six responsible acts, such as perfect school attendance for one month or volunteering at a charitable organization for an hour.

Students must have a sponsor (such as a teacher or relative) to track their progress and submit the participation form at www.rockvillemd.gov/terrificbikes with a postmark no later than Friday, April 8. Bike recipients will be recognized at the Mayor and Council meeting on Monday, May 2 as part of the city's observance of

Kids who do good deeds can earn a free bike.

Bike Month. Bikes will be distributed on Sunday, May 15.

Preventing Lead in Drinking Water: What Rockville Customers Should Know

Rockville's drinking water meets or exceeds all standards for safe drinking water, including standards for lead. However, it is important to understand what the city does to treat water for distribution and what city water customers can do to reduce lead in water service lines or plumbing in their homes.

Drinking water is essentially lead-free in the distribution system, before entering a home's water service line, which is owned by the property owner. While the city is responsible for providing high-quality drinking water, it cannot control the materials used in service lines and home plumbing. Lead in water is a concern primarily for those customers with lead service lines or plumbing.

The city's water treatment process helps prevent corrosion in distribution system water lines and in plumbing by making the water less corrosive. Pipe corrosion can cause lead to leach into tap water. Such was the case in Flint, Mich., according to the American Water Works Association. Public health officials in Flint have reported increased lead levels in children, which can cause serious health problems.

Customers concerned about lead in their water may wish to have their water tested by a certified water quality laboratory. For a list of Maryland Department of the Environment (MDE)-certified labs, visit <http://ow.ly/Yp4xH>.

When a household tap has been out of use for several hours, customers can minimize the potential for lead exposure by turning on the tap for 30 seconds to two minutes. Use cold water for cooking.

Mayor and Council Continue FY 2017 Budget Work

The Mayor and Council will continue discussing their vision for Rockville's fiscal year 2017 budget with a work session and a public hearing in March.

City Manager Barbara B. Matthews is scheduled to present her proposed budget for FY 2017 on Monday, March 14, followed by a work session.

City staff provided the Mayor and Council with a revenue update and fund overview during a budget kickoff work session on Monday, Jan. 11. The Mayor and Council identified several items to consider including in the budget. The general fund budget for the current fiscal year, which ends June 30, totals $78.1 million, and makes up over 60 percent of the city's total operating budget. About $38.3 million of the general fund is comprised of revenue from property taxes. Matthews' proposal maintains the city's current real property tax rate of $0.292 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Rockville fourth graders are encouraged to participate in the statewide "If I Were Mayor" essay contest to get a chance to be the city's "Mayor for a Day" this spring.

The theme of this year's contest, organized by the Maryland Municipal League (MML) and the Maryland Mayors' Association (MMA), is "Rising to the Challenge." Essays are due by March 31.

One winning essay will be selected from each of MML's 11 regional districts. In addition to the winners chosen by MML and MMA, the Mayor and Council will select a winner who attends school in Rockville.

The city's purchasing team is implementing the action plan presented to the Mayor and Council on Feb. 1.

Purchasing Division Joins the City Manager's Office

Move is One of Several Changes in Action Plan Presented to Mayor and Council

The city's Purchasing Division moved from the Finance Department to the City Manager's Office last month under changes to the city's overall purchasing operation.

The action plan, presented by City Manager Barbara B. Matthews to the Mayor and Council on Feb. 1, addresses recommendations in a Calyptus Consulting study of the city's overall purchasing operation. The plan outlines how and when recommendations in the Mayor and Council-commissioned study will be implemented and follows the recent hiring of a new purchasing manager.

"The combination of a new purchasing manager and the data and analysis provided by Calyptus Consulting offers an opportunity to transform the city's purchasing function," Matthews said. "While full implementation is a long-term project, work is underway, already yielding positive results for the organization."

Moving the Purchasing Division to report directly to the city manager required a change to the city code, which was approved by the Mayor and Council on Feb. 1. Another one of the 29 study recommendations that has already been put in place is the assignment of a buyer to each city department to enhance communication, procurement planning and customer service. Other recommendations, to be implemented in calendar year 2016, include changes to the city's purchase card program, revisions to the city code to incorporate best practices in purchasing and updates to the city's procurement guidelines. Longer term initiatives will focus on technology improvements and the development of a strategic plan.

Find more information, including the action plan and consultant's report, at www.rockvillemd.gov/purchasing. ❖

Rockville Annexes Former CarMax Property, Enlarging City Limits

The Mayor and Council voted on Feb. 8 to annex a parcel of land at the southeast corner of the intersection of Frederick Road and King Farm Boulevard/Shady Grove Metro Access Road that formerly housed a CarMax auto dealership.

The annexation of the property, at 15931 Frederick Road, will enlarge the city's corporate boundaries by 4 acres. It becomes effective 45 days after the Mayor and Council's vote, on March 24.

The property owner, 355 Partners LLC, and the contract purchaser, Frederick Road LLC, applied for the annexation because they would like to redevelop the property. They have submitted a site plan application to build a seven-story building containing 405 multiple-unit dwellings and an associated parking structure on the site. The application is under review by city staff.

The Planning Commission is expected to review and take action on the site plan application in March.

Learn more about the annexation in the Mayor and Council's Feb. 8 meeting agenda at www.rockvillemd.gov/AgendaCenter. ❖

IN BRIEF

Mayor and Council Set City's County-Level Priorities

School Construction, Reimbursement for Services and Stormwater Fees Top List

Funding for school construction, reimbursement by the county for services provided by the city, stormwater management fees and funding for a school Linkages to Learning program are the top priorities the City of Rockville will advocate for at the county level in 2016.

The priorities, approved Feb. 1 by the Mayor and Council, set a framework for promoting and protecting interests of the Rockville community when working with county elected officials and staff. They also provide guidance for the city's participation in county operating and capital budget hearings. Under the priorities approved Feb. 1, the city will advocate for:

- Funding for Montgomery County Public Schools (MCPS) projects at schools serving Rockville, including expansions of Twinbrook and Maryvale elementary schools and the co-location of the Carl Sandburg Learning Center at Maryvale; completion of an addition to Julius West Middle School; construction of Richard Montgomery Elementary School No. 5; and an addition to Lucy V. Barnsley Elementary.
- Fair and reasonable municipal tax duplication payment, which is intended to reimburse the cost that the county would incur to provide certain services covered by the city, such as road and bridge maintenance. Of particular concern for Rockville is that the city is not reimbursed for police services, despite handling 73 percent of the calls for service within its corporate boundaries.
- Payment of Rockville's stormwater management utility fee for county-owned property. The city is projected to lose more than $1 million over the next two fiscal years because the county government, MCPS and Montgomery College do not pay the city's fee, despite the city providing stormwater management services to their facilities.
- Funding for the Linkages to Learning program at Maryvale Elementary School, which provides mentoring; tutoring; health, mental health and social services; and legal issue referrals. In recent years, the Maryvale program has been funded at a level well behind that of other sites and well below the cost of running the program.

Rockville Police Offer Off-Leash Testing

Dogs Must Be Recertified Annually to Walk Without a Leash in the City

Rockville police offer off-leash testing at 10 a.m. in the Rockville Swim and Fitness Center's outdoor pool parking lot, at 355 Martins Lane, on the following Saturdays:

- March 19.
- May 21.
- July 16.

Dogs must be leashed or restrained whenever they are off their owner's property, unless the owner and dog have passed the city's Off-Leash with Permission test.

The cost is $5 per dog. Dogs must have a current Rockville dog license in order to take the two-part test.

In the first part of the test, the dog must demonstrate that it will obey several basic commands such as sit, down and stay. In the second part, the dog, with its handler, must demonstrate that it can walk in a designated area off-leash without negatively reacting to several distractions.

Dogs that pass the test may be walked without a leash in the city. Dogs and owners must be recertified each year. There is no charge for recertification.

Preregistration is required. Call 240-314-8937. For more information, visit www.rockvillemd.gov/offleash.

Neighborhood Notes

Kudos to Public Works and Parks Crews

Rockville received nearly 30 inches of snow during the Jan. 22-24 blizzard. Crews from the city's Department of Public Works and Recreation and Parks Department worked day and night throughout the storm, and for days after, to clear snow from city streets. The city's Purchasing Division and the Rockville City Police Department supported their efforts.

City to Host Series of 'Rockville 2040' Meetings This Spring

Community is Invited to Weigh In on Master Plan Goals and Objectives

A series of meetings in the coming months will offer community members from across the city the opportunity to answer the question: What do you want Rockville to be like in 2040?

The four meetings are a key part of "Rockville 2040," the process to update the city's Comprehensive Master Plan. The plan seeks to preserve and improve the quality of life in Rockville by guiding development and conservation and by ensuring the provision of high-quality community facilities. At the meetings, the community will develop a first draft of goals and objectives for key topics, which include land use, transportation, environment, economy, housing and historic preservation.

Meetings will be held at VisArts, 155 Gibbs St., in Rockville Town Square, at 6:30 p.m. on the following Tuesdays:

- April 19.
- May 10.
- May 24.
- June 14.

A light dinner will be served. Participants are strongly encouraged to attend all four meetings, as each will build on the prior, and to review background materials found at www.rockvillemd.gov/rockville2040. The materials include feedback from Rockville 2040 community listening sessions that were held over the past year and trend reports on the key topics, developed and presented by planning staff, which will be used during the upcoming meetings.

Staff requests that participants contact Ann Wallas at awallas@rockvillemd.gov or 240-314-8200 by Thursday, March 31.

For more information, to submit comments about the planning process, to provide thoughts on Rockville's future, or to sign up to receive email updates about Rockville 2040, visit www.rockvillemd.gov/rockville2040. ❖

Mayor and Council Discuss Options for BRT in Town Center

Options Would Be Considered in State Transit Study

The Mayor and Council on Feb. 8 discussed three possible bus rapid transit (BRT) options for the state to consider to integrate BRT in Rockville Town Center.

The BRT project for improving traffic mobility in Montgomery County includes planned routes along Veirs Mill Road and Maryland Route 355/Rockville Pike. Rockville contracted with a consultant team to conduct a study last year that provides concepts and options for integrating BRT in Town Center. The options include connections through the "mixing bowl" at Veirs Mill Road and MD 355 and with the Rockville Metro station.

The options that the Mayor and Council agreed to submit to the state for consideration include one with buses operating in mixed traffic, another with two dedicated BRT lanes along the median that would retain all existing lanes on MD 355, and a third that includes two dedicated BRT lanes in the median and has a tunnel to carry MD 355 through-traffic under Town Center, between Mt. Vernon Place and Beall Avenue. The options may be considered along with others as part of the state study of the 22-mile corridor on MD 355.

Community engagement will be conducted later this year once the state provides information about possible solutions along the rest of MD 355 and other corridors. That information will give a broader view of what's being considered beyond the Town Center study area.

On Feb. 8, the Mayor and Council discussed trends in transit use, how BRT operates, where it is used, how it could work in Town Center and how BRT relates to the Metro system. They also discussed funding and the prospect of federal support for the project, the length and cost of a Town Center tunnel, pedestrian connections, and the need for open space to accommodate community events.

Out Go the Lights! Rockville to Observe Earth Hour on March 19

International Effort Supports Collective Action for Climate Change

Rockville will turn out the lights in observance of the 10th anniversary of Earth Hour, an international effort in support of climate change action.

Earth Hour encourages people to participate by turning off all nonessential lights in their homes and businesses for one hour, from 8:30-9:30 p.m. on Saturday, March 19. The city will participate by turning off all nonessential lights at the city's Gude Maintenance Facility.

Earth Hour was first observed in Sydney, Australia in 2007 and has grown into a worldwide movement organized by the World Wide Fund for Nature (known in the United States as the World Wildlife Fund). Last year, Earth Hour achieved a record with over 7,000 cities in 172 countries turning off lights in support of climate change action. Earth Hour 2016 comes just over three months since world leaders from nearly 200 countries met in Paris and crafted a global agreement to make climate change action an international priority.

The Mayor and Council are expected to issue a proclamation recognizing Earth Hour at their meeting on Monday, March 14. Find more information when the March 14 Mayor and Council agenda is available several days before the meeting at www.rockvillemd.gov/AgendaCenter.

Participants in Earth Hour make a statement about how collective action – millions of small actions combined together – can have a tangible impact. Find ways to participate in Earth Hour every day at www.earthhour.org/blog/10-ways-celebrate-earth-hour-daily. ❖

'Rock 11 Now' Takes an Inside Look at the Chilly Dip in the Chesapeake

Spring Leaf Collection Takes Place in April

Interactive Map Shows Dates for Neighborhoods

The city will vacuum leaves from neighborhood curbs from April 4-8 in five collection areas throughout Rockville.

Residents should rake leaves into the gutter or immediately adjacent to the pavement if no curb or gutter exists. Leaves should be raked no earlier than one week before the scheduled collection day. This avoids the accumulation of leaves near and on the streets, which can lead to fire hazards or grass damage.

To learn when your neighborhood collection will be, see the map on this page or use the interactive map at www.rockvillemd.gov/leafcollection, which allows residents to input their address to learn when leaves will be collected in their neighborhood.

Place leaves at the curb by 6 a.m. on the collection dates. Use plastic bags. Biodegradable paper lawn bags are acceptable.

After the collection dates, leaves may still be set out in paper lawn bags or 32-gallon trash cans with yard waste on recycling and refuse collection day.

For more information, visit www.rockvillemd.gov/recycling-refuse. ❖

Rockville Storm Drain Mural Project Deadline Approaches

Monday, March 14 is the deadline for artists with an interest in the environment to submit ideas for a unique opportunity to educate the public about storm drains and the impact of our collective actions.

The Rockville Storm Drain Mural Project, co-sponsored by the City of Rockville and VisArts, will use original mural designs to reflect how storm drains—and what goes into them—impact the health of local waterways and the Chesapeake Bay. Themes could include water quality, streams, rivers, the Chesapeake Bay, native plants and wildlife, or pollution.

The example above, “Evanescence,” by Chris Light, Anthony Padron and Keatyn Garton, adorns a storm drain in Springfield, Mo. The photo is courtesy of the Storm Drain Reveal, a partnership between the James River Basin Partnership and the City of Springfield (Mo.).

Any water quality violations are reported in the city's Annual Drinking Water Quality Report at www.rockvillemd.gov/annualwaterquality2015.

Tips for Doing Your Duty and Picking Up Pet Waste

After your dog does its "duty," please do yours. Picking up pet waste keeps our city looking great and prevents pollution of our waterways.

During a rainstorm, pet waste can be washed into storm drains that flow directly into streams, creeks and, eventually, the Chesapeake Bay. Along the way it pollutes our local waterways and harms aquatic life with high levels of nitrogen and bacteria.

Follow these tips to ensure that your pet's business doesn't become our watershed's problem:

- Reuse plastic shopping bags or newspaper sleeves to pick up pet waste.
- Tie bags to your dog's leash and store extras in the car so you're ready when nature calls.
- Always scoop and bag pet waste. Then throw it in the refuse collection.
